kgs speaks about CMIS at IT online conference

Neu-Isenburg, 13 January 2022 - On 27 January 2022 kgs will be present at this year's IT Online Conference. Benny Schröder, Head of R&D KGS Software GmbH will present in the webinar the possibilities that CMIS offers in combination with SAP S/4HANA.

As an SAP Silver Partner, KGS Software GmbH will once again be taking part in the SAP conference of the IT-Onlinemagazin again this year. The archiving specialist will be addressing the question of whether the ArchiveLink interface is still up to date, whether the ArchiveLink interface is still up to date and which alternatives are available. In particular, the requirements of S/4HANA and requirements of S/4HANA and the cloud transformation and the advantages and the advantages of the new interface technology CMIS are presented.

Using concrete customer examples, Schröder will explain how the change from ArchiveLink to CMIS can be implemented, old ArchiveLink documents can be transferred and what opportunities the CMIS technology brings with it. Benny Schröder: "The S/4HANA transformation and the migration to the migration to the cloud are currently top priorities for many IT decision-makers priority. The challenges that this poses for document management are often unknown or have not yet been are still unresolved."

Interested parties can register here to attend the presentation at the IT Online Congress to register.
